D2 STUDIOS

From first impression to closing the deal, a strong graphic image is essential in today's demanding business environment. With over 25 years of design and production experience D2 Studios produces award-winning graphic design to help you communicate that image to the world.

Advertising and promotional materials are key in developing business. Logos, corporate identity packages, catalogs, and brochures establish visual contact with your client base. Web advertisements, media kits, and package designs complete the picture. When clients look at your company's materials, they must be original, creative and memorable. At D2 Studios, we deliver that creativity.

We will manage your project from conception to production. In addition we will maintain timely and ongoing consulting relationships to help you get the most from your marketing investment. Utilizing the latest computer technology, we will help you establish a strong presence in the virtual marketplace.

"D2 Studios has repeatedly demonstrated an ability to initiate creative concepts and is equally adept at being given an idea and transforming it into a visually striking representation. They excel at meeting tight deadlines, while working within budgetary requirements."
 Judy Corey
 Marketing Group Project Manager
 Cygnus Business Media

"D2 Studios provided CREATIVE, IMAGINATIVE and VERY EFFECTIVE original work for presentations, marketing and branding materials when they did work for me while I was at Interrep as investor relations officer. I now run a non-profit theater company that I founded in 2003, and it was an obvious step to ask them to be in charge of the theater company's art direction. Their creative ability to interpret visually the essence of a play—and brand it using compelling artwork and images—has helped us become a force to be reckoned with in the NYC theater community."
